

ABOUT YOUR PHYSICAL THERAPIST...

DEDICATED TO HIS PROFESSION

“My goal is to find the root of your problem, help you overcome it and get you back to doing what you like. I do this with consistent care and attention to your every movement, your every need. The result is a custom hands-on physical therapy program designed to help you - and only you - rehabilitate and recover.”

Andrew Knox, PT, COMT

“The Netherlands is known for its manual therapy schools, where students learn the ultimate in hands-on therapy techniques. My international training, combined with further manual therapy education, helps me provide you with a one-on-one approach to effectively mobilize you toward quicker recovery.”

PT: Hogeschool Enschede, Netherlands

Pre-physical Therapy, University of Evansville, Indiana

Certified: North American Institute of Orthopedic Manual Therapy

Manual Therapist, Curtin University, Perth, Australia

Associate of Science: Belleville Area College, Illinois

PROFESSIONAL ASSOCIATES ARE THE KEY

“Every time I meet with my colleagues, we share new ways to bring you the highest quality of care and the latest techniques available. Staying active in professional associations and teaching other therapists is a powerful way to enhance my skills and ensure that you get the most up-to-date care possible.”

Continuing Education: North American Institute of Orthopedic Manual Therapy (NAIOMT) Levels I - IV; Certified Orthopedic Manual Therapist

PAST EXPERIENCE FUELS THE FUTURE

“My experience in working with the YMCA and other organizations impacted my view of physical therapy. I had always enjoyed exercise and helping others enjoy it as well, and when it came time to choose a fulfilling career, I couldn't think of anything I wanted to do more than be a physical therapist.”

Teaching Assistant: North American Institute of Orthopedic Manual Therapy

Former Director of Rehabilitation: Central Oregon District Hospital, Redmond, Oregon

Former Program Specialist: YMCA of the Ozarks, YMCA of the Rockies

In addition to physical therapy, Andrew enjoys spending time with his wife and Peak Performance Physical Therapy partner, Suzanne and their three children, Teaghan, Ainslie and Skye. Andrew's hobbies include kayaking, mountain biking and skiing throughout Central Oregon. He looks forward to helping you recover and enjoy your hobbies.
